PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Dear Delegates,

A very warm welcome to the 3rd New Financial Worlds Conference. As the third flagship conference hosted by Imperial College Finance Society, this year we have decided to focus on the topic of global markets and investment banking. The conference has attracted applicants from prestigious institutions from around the world and we hope you enjoy meeting fellow students who share a common interest in the financial services industry.

Established only two years ago, the New Financial Worlds Conference has grown to become one of the most influential events in the financial sphere's calendar, with prominent speakers from the highest level of industry and a distinct focus on a specific area of the field. I further urge you to take advantage of our networking events throughout the day for an opportunity to talk directly to representatives from our sponsors.

I would like to thank my fantastically motivated committee for their passion and commitment in organising the conference. It is amazing that just a few months ago, we were all sat around a table with grand visions of the event and thanks to our team, we have realised our ambitions.

I sincerely hope you find the New Financial Worlds engaging, insightful and useful in broadening your knowledge of financial products. When trying to learn about the industry, it is often difficult to know where to start. As such, I hope the conference gives you all the important insight into the financial world and I wish you well in your future careers.

Ahmed Jamal

President, 3rd New Financial Worlds Conference

FINANCE SOCIETY
IMPERIAL COLLEGE

ABOUT US

IMPERIAL COLLEGE

Founded in 1907 Imperial College is a world-class university at the forefront of teaching and research in science, medicine and engineering. The student community is formed by 13,000 bright undergraduates and postgraduates from over 158 countries.

IMPERIAL COLLEGE FINANCE SOCIETY

The Imperial College Finance Society (ICFS) is the largest, most established society for Imperial College students seeking an early insight into finance and business. ICFS is experienced in providing our members with a wealth of resources and opportunities, to support them realise their potential through their professional pursuits. We foster a vibrant, interactive community for both learning and networking with future employers, colleagues and students at other top institutions globally.

NEW FINANCIAL WORLDS CONFERENCE

The New Financial Worlds Conference is an annual exclusive event dedicated to a topic of interest in the financial world. Organized by ICFS, the event attracts people from a wide range of both academic and professional backgrounds. The conference aims to identify new trends in the evolution of the financial world.

This year's New Financial Worlds Conference is split into two streams, Global Markets and Investment Banking, where students and professionals will have the unique opportunity to be a part of a number of cutting edge presentations given by top level industry experts. Delegates will also have the chance to network and those who impress will be able to secure internships with our sponsors, as many past delegates have been able to.

The theme of the first stream is Global Markets, an extremely dynamic and complex area which covers products such as bonds, equities, over-the-counter derivatives, foreign exchange, and commodities. Delegates of this stream will be able to attend talks given by the most prominent speakers in this field as well as participate in a trading challenge.

The second stream will focus on Investment Banking. Topics include M&A and debt and equity issuance. Delegates will participate in talks from many eminent speakers in the area and will be able to participate in an interactive M&A case study.

THE VENUE

This year's New Financial Worlds Conference is held in the heart of Mayfair in the Park Lane Hotel, a 5 Star hotel on Piccadilly, London. Facing Green Park and just a short walk away from Buckingham Palace it is ideally located to connect with the city of London.

The hotel was built in the 1920s in the Grand Art Deco Style by Sir Bracewell Smith. The building is a fine example with a mansard roof and Portland stone facade. The building is Grade II listed and has also been featured in films such as The End of the Affair, The Winds of War and The Golden Compass.

The investment banking stream of the conference will be held in the Ballroom a 70-year old, 11,000-square foot complex.

The HSBC logo is displayed in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters against a blue background with a geometric, low-poly pattern.

Full-time Global Analyst Induction Programme

Who can apply

The Global Analyst Induction Programme (GAIP) is open to students in their final year of university or who have already graduated. We welcome both Bachelors and Masters students and have a dedicated MBA Associate Programme for MBA candidates.

What you can expect

At HSBC, we're committed to the learning and development of our Graduate Analysts. Our goal is to become the world's leading international bank and the personal and professional progress of our people is one of the cornerstones of our strategy.

Join GAIP and you will experience a stimulating combination of classroom-based interactive technical and behavioural skills training - alongside hands-on work in your chosen business area. All of this is designed to help highly credible new Analysts develop into the influential specialist professionals of tomorrow.

Gain a deep, global understanding

Our programme will provide you with a deep understanding of HSBC's competitive advantages, strategy and clients. It will start with an in-depth four-to-six week induction for all our Analysts globally. Held in London, it acts as an introduction to our culture, strategy and values. The technical and regulatory training you receive will be bespoke to your programme area and ensures you have the skills and knowledge to start your career at HSBC. This is complemented by a core behavioural skills programme covering such aspects as influencing, personal brand, presentation skills and dealing with challenging situations-critical in a client-facing business.

Connect to our culture

Our dedicated and structured programme will open up the world of HSBC to you. It will connect you to our culture, ethics, values and business principles. You'll learn about HSBC's values - dependable, open and connected - and we'll demonstrate them in action. You'll also gain experience networking with your fellow peers from across our global network.

Supporting your performance, learning and network

At HSBC, we want you to reach your personal and professional potential. We also expect the highest levels of performance from all our Analysts. Ongoing development is vital, and our continuous learning curriculum will support you fully. Throughout your programme, you can expect a mixture of formal assessment, regular feedback and continuous support and coaching from your Analyst Development Adviser, your line manager, mentor and a buddy who's also experienced GAIP.

How you'll benefit

HSBC's culture is based on recognising people on merit. This means your achievements will be acknowledged and your career advancement will be based on your performance. We will also make sure that you are in constant contact with your peers in the different hubs across the globe, so you can form valuable international networks.
